SUPERINTENDENTS MESSAGE

As we approach the close of the 1961-62 school year, I hope we will remember it not only for the new facilities we are adding and for the good times we have had at school, but also as a year of dedication to higher goals and ambitions including

1. A dedication to the ideals and structure of our form of government;
2. A resolution to make the most of our educational opportunities; and,
3. An appreciation of the efforts parents make in behalf of their sons and daughters.

SPECIAL SCHOOL PERSONNEL

NURSE
Mrs. Crofts

The special school personnel of M.R.H. are composed of a small group of hard working people who perform a number of different jobs. These "men behind the scenes" make sure that our high school runs smoothly and efficiently. The cafeteria staff and nurse insure the well being and good health of the students. Surely these people behind the scenes deserve the co-operation and appreciation of the students for making the school a comfortable place to be.

DR. FERDINAND DEL PIZZO

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Fellow Students:

If I were asked to describe the world of today in one word my answer would be, Change. Thus, in the lines which follow I aim to point out the significance of change and the role young America must play in this changing world.

In this day of supersonic speeds yesterday's tomorrow has become today's yesterday. More changes have taken place in the past 30 years than have taken place in man's entire life. Jet engines, television, atomic powered motors, and velocities of over 1,000 miles an hour have become common place. It is quite apparent that such sweeping innovations are not only essential but even necessary if we, as a stronghold of democracy, are to maintain our position of influence in this highly competitive world.

Many of us will agree that the acceptance of any change requires a readiness on the part of the individual. To this end each of us must be intellectually vigorous, mentally alert, and physically strong. My own feeling is that all of us must regard any change as a long range improvement which aims to produce people who are not only competent in the sciences and technology, but who are also better able to meet the responsibilities of citizenship in a free society.

Consequently, in the face of these enlightening changes it follows that if young America is to assume its rightful place in this dynamic world high school must become more meaningful to the individual student. The fundamentals for all future interpretations are learned in high school. America's most prominent and successful scholars and scientists acquired the interest that started them on their way in high school. The industrial giants, the business tycoons, the technicians, and the professional men of TOMORROW are in high school classes TODAY.

As long as over ninety percent of America's youth are diligently following a course of study in high school any challenge produced by CHANGE will not only be intelligently appraised, it will also be successfully met.

Sincerely yours,

Ferdinand Del Pizzo

CURRICULUM

Ah . . . . . !!

Mr. Dubry, I'm giving my report!

Do you understand?

OUR ENGLISH

Three years of English are required for graduation.

Grammatical fundamentals are taught to freshmen, while sophomore English students read Julius Caesar and Silas Marner. Composing themes, giving oral book reviews, and using the dictionary are included in the juniors' study of English. College bound students take Senior English with its research papers, critical comments and pop quizzes as part of their preparation. Seniors may take English seven and eight for a further study of grammar. Future journalists gain experience as they gather and report news for the

DEPARTMENT

Chip publication in journalism class or the annual. Another class for seniors only is Public Speaking where proper presentation of various type of speeches are made up and delivered before the class. To be eligible to participate in the senior play, students must take Dramatics. In addition to the senior play, the class performs one act plays, skits, and excerpts from Shakespeare's plays.

Regardless of the vocational field, it has always been necessary to be able to express thoughts and ideas to others. The English courses taken now will become an essential part of the future.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Social Studies courses acquaint students with the world they live in.

Freshmen learn study habits from films seen during the first semester. They must know and pass the Missouri State Constitution their second semester.

Sophomores are taught of the history of the world from the beginning of man, his conquests and failures in the world he has built.

ADVISORS AT WORK

Juniors learn of American heritage; the courageous founders of this country, struggle for independence, War between the states, and World Wars I and II. They must pass the constitution of the United States.

Seniors may choose as elective courses, American Problems or World Geography.

These papers could be better.

ALL TYPES OF MATH

Equations, formulas, and constructions are learned through the math department of M-RH.

The general math course is a review of simple mathematical fundamentals. Algebra teaches equations. In Plane Geometry followed by solid geometry, students learn reasoning through construction of geometric figures. Those taking advanced and college algebra use the slide rule and learn logarithms. Students wishing to continue with math are offered trigonometry.

IDEAS START IN SCIENCE

With more and more emphasis on the importance of science, M-RH offers many courses to acquaint students with basic scientific knowledge. One year of a science is required by the state for high school graduates.

General science offers basic scientific facts which can later be developed in the study of the human body and nature in biology. In chemistry students are offered the opportunity to experiment with chemicals in a laboratory. Advanced science students are found in physics classes where intricate scientific facts are discovered.

LANGUAGES GAIN

IMPORTANCE

Foreign language students have the opportunity to study their subject using the facilities of the new language laboratory. Lessons are often recorded as they correspond with the instructor and hear their voices. Four languages are offered at M-RH.

Among the languages offered to M-RH students are French, Spanish, German, and Latin. Next year the Language Department hopes to offer Russian, and a four year course in each of the languages.

Records are also used in the classroom to acquaint the students with the language as it is spoken by natives.

Now it says right here

PHYSICAL EDUCATION MEANS FUN

Physical Education is designed to encourage interest in sports, maintaining a healthy body, and attitudes of good sportsmanship and teamwork. To achieve this, the Physical Education Department sets up regular seasonal activities and organized team sports. Some of these activities are: football, hockey, basketball, wrestling, track, volleyball, and baseball.

Students are encouraged to take part in calisthenics, team sports, both intramural and intermural sports and individual sports.

THE

Do you understand Ron?

Hold that tone for a few hours.

Mechanical drawing—hooray for Hickman.

In order for a student to have a well-rounded education, he should acquire an interest or some knowledge of many fields. The fine arts and practical arts departments of M-RH are designed to fill this need.

The Fine Arts department offers art and music courses to help balance the students' program. The first year of art is intended to provide a basic training in art, but more serious students may take up to three years of art. The different music courses which are offered are: orchestra, band, choir, and glee club. Out of these different music groups may develop many programs such as the annual spring concert.

They were requested and accepted to play in the Veiled Prophet Parade and at half-time for Washington University. Through the concert season, the band enlightened the Christmas program and music assemblies. They gave concerts for the Parent-Music Club and forum meetings. Programs were presented to the district elementary schools. The band was involved in an exchange concert, and played in the annual music festival.

The M-RH Swingin' Devils dance band is composed of outstanding players of a section. They provided half-time entertainment at the home basketball games with popular music arrangements.

The full orchestra is composed of the strings with the addition of the winds and percussion who are also members of the M-RH band. The strings rehearse everyday; once a week in full orchestra.

This year, as in past years, the orchestra participated in the Spring Concert and the County Music Festival. To please everyone's tastes, the orchestra played both classical and popular music, all favorite melodies.

Anyone in grades nine through twelve who has the proper ability may be eligible to join the orchestra.

Mr. Dolan, their leader.

Well-loved and wonderfully presented music is the high aim of the M-RH A Cappella Choir. They are often in the same programs as the band and orchestra who entertain at holiday assemblies and forum meetings. At the annual music festival, the members sing their favorite songs and are evaluated by music critics.

Students are required to try out for this choir, and those with outstanding voices are admitted. Mr. Haynes, who is a new teacher this year, directs this eloquent chorus.

HARD WORK MAKES A BETTER SCHOOL

Mr. Del addresses the S.C.

The Student Council has served M-RH in many ways. It is composed of representatives elected from each of the advisory groups. They are assigned to various committees and jobs through the year.

The main project of the Council was promotion of the Maple Chest in its new location on the first floor. The Chest sold many school supplies, including Student Council pencils with football and basketball schedules, and gym clothes. Regulation gym suits are sold in cooperation with the physical education department.

In addition to bake sales, suppers, and car washes, the Student Council, this year, produced a Buzz Book which contained telephone numbers and addresses of the Junior and Senior high school students. Boosters and ads were sold to help finance the project.

"Now about the foreign exchange student . . ."

During the Christmas season, the Council collected canned goods for the Fats and Leans organization to donate to people in need. The decorated Christmas tree and sale of Christmas cards added to the holiday spirit. In keeping with the community projects, the group helped, for the second consecutive year, in the March of Dimes Teen-age Drive, and also sold balloons and crutches in advisory groups, and set up car blockades on the main thorough-fares.

An attempt to acquire a foreign exchange student was made this year. As part of the exchange program, two M-RH students would be sent to the country in Europe from which the exchange student came.

The Student Council is sponsored by Warren Detering to whom it is grateful for his guidance and help.

"Deck the halls . . ."

Julie gives her report.

PEP CLUB

STIRS SPIRIT

"Onward to victory! We will win this game tonight!" Cheers such as this were screamed from the Pep Club section at all games. The Pep Club encouraged their team in both wins and losses.

This year, the Pep Club was very effective in promoting school spirit at games for all of the teams. They were also concerned with supporting the cheerleaders.

Spirits were heightened with pep assemblies in the gym. The cheerleaders lead the student body in new cheers to be used at the on-coming games. Pep Club members learned the cheers at their meetings and shouted them out in their specified section of the bleachers.

Selling line-up programs at football and basketball games was another Pep Club project. The M-RH sweatshirts with the Blue Devil embossed on the front were sold by this group, too. The cheerleaders sold M-RH derbys to the student body to add to the Pep Club treasury.

Pep Club provided the beautiful bouquet of mums to Linda Farris, football queen, at the homecoming game. The victorious homecoming game was preceded by the huge, high-spirited bon-fire where fans incircled the fire singing school songs and cheers.

New cheerleaders were aided by the Pep Club in financing their uniforms and megaphone charms. The club is sponsored by Miss Carole Heeter and Mrs. Donahue.

Members are required to pay annual dues. The money collected is added to the treasury or used to buy M-RH pennants with the teams' mascot and school name. Pennants from the league teams to be hung about the gym were purchased by the Pep Club.

Cheerleaders and Majorettes have given the school much spirit and entertainment at games and during half-time.

The cheerleaders practice their cheering during the summer months and after school. They pass on the technique to other girls with practice sessions. They are chosen by try-outs by teachers, and other cheerleaders from different schools.

Half-time at football games is high-lighted by the high-stepping, graceful majorettes as they march with the band during their show. The majorettes often twirl flaming batons to the band's accompaniment. The girls are also chosen by try-outs.

Cheerleaders and Majorettes are examples of fine school spirit in action.

YFC

Y.F.C. (Youth for Christ) has achieved much this year. The meetings are organized monthly with its sponsor, Doc. Roberts, to plan and carry out the programs. The programs included semi-monthly rallies, Bible study and quizzing competition, in which M-RH Y.F.C. received honors, and socials. The club, also, showed inspirational films and sponsored an assembly presenting Don Loney as guest speaker. The school club is sponsored by the local St. Louis area council.

MU ALPHA THETA

Mu Alpha Theta (Math Club) is one of our very active clubs. During their meetings they strived to learn a great deal in the exciting field of figures. The above name signifies that the club is a member of the national mathematics fraternity and therefore, the members must maintain a A-B average in math and have taken Algebra and Geometry. The club also tries to carry out many worthwhile projects which will aid the club and further the interests of the members.

French Club was organized once again this year with membership open to all students of the French classes. The club attempted to plan programs which would acquaint its members more fully with the culture of modern day France.

The meetings, which gathered once a month, participated in varied activities planned by the club to achieve their purpose. Among these plans included visits to restaurants, museums, and musical shows, all with that "French flair." At the regular meetings, the members were led in singing songs in French. Films that had been taken on a tour of France were shown. The group met with their teacher and sponsor, Mrs. Louise Judson who helped them with the direction and planning of the programs.

Sue Timanus and Jackie Coons were this year's senior and junior chairmen respectively. V.G.P. annually sponsors Career Day which takes place in the spring of the year. Juniors and seniors choose one occupation for each of the three hours. They talk with and listen to people of various professions during this time. Each group has a student chairman, secretary, and faculty advisor to assist the speakers. The guests are served coffee and donuts by the welcoming committee. As always, Career Day was educational and interesting to all concerned.

WAR ORPHAN CLUB CONTINUES AID

Park Won Hi

The representatives to War Orphan have this year, as in past years, continued a worthwhile deed. This deed is the support of a war orphan overseas. Miss Louise Smith, the club's sponsor, has organized this group at M-RH. The committee achieves this sponsoring by the collection of donations from the student body during advisory group periods. This money is used to supply food, clothing, and other necessities for the orphan. This year the war orphan was Park Won Hi who lives in Seoul, Korea. Letters are exchanged from her and the active group.

On the job students gain actual practical experience while in training for the job of his choice.

These advanced pupils offered bake sales for the student body and a breakfast for themselves.

The Red Cross Club, sponsored by Miss Bertha Yackel, functions to serve people. The FTA, sponsored by Warren Coy, met twice a month this year at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The club's purpose is to stimulate interest in teaching, to learn how teachers receive their training, to cultivate qualities of personality, and to study the lives of great teachers.

This year's projects included the continuance of the cadet student teacher program, which was introduced last year, and the coat checking service at the home basketball games. The club took field trips to the Missouri School for the Blind and to Lindenwood College. The members of FTA also attended the Future Teachers of America Workshop at Afton. The last meeting was the club's annual picnic at Mr. Coy's house.

POWDER PUFF

Bench warmers

Mix thoroughly, one football, lipstick, and mascara, and the junior and senior girls for a confused and thrill-packed Powder Puff football game. The end resulted in defeat for the senior gridiron by the score 7-0.

Oh my gosh!!

Somebody forgot the ball

The game was sponsored by the two classes and their counselors, Mrs. Louise Judson and Mr. Robert de Jong. The proceeds from tickets sold went in the classes' treasuries and were used to finance the Junior-Senior Prom and the Senior Prom.

A near capacity crowd turned out to cheer on their favorite team. Those who bought tickets were parents, teachers, fellow students, friends, and girls from many other schools who later had their own games. Fans were not disappointed by the action displayed by the Senior Stars and the Junior Juveniles. Teams were prepped and drilled by their respective "coaches" during after school skull sessions. The teams honored their coaches with bouquets of flowers.

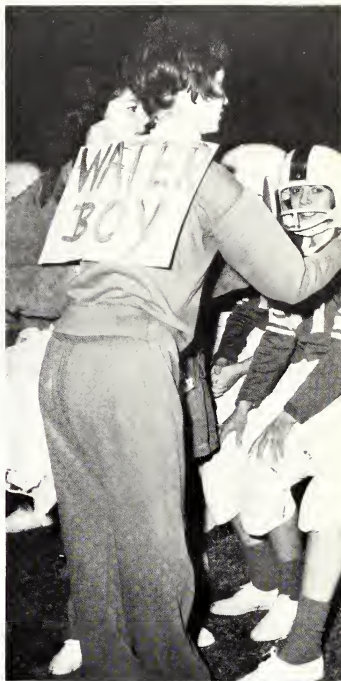

"Listen, here I come."

FOOTBALL GAME

O.K. you guys. This will be a right sweep!

Suzy does her duty

Are the senior boys tricking again?

"Fight! Senior Stars!" and other original cheers and chants were led by the boy cheerleaders who fascinated the crowds with their stunning outfits. Half-time entertainment was a display of grace and skill presented by the junior and senior boy majorettes.

The Powder Puff football game not only made news in the St. Louis area papers, the Globe-Democrat and Post-Dispatch and also Prom Magazine, but gained acclaim in the sports sections of the Chening Bulletin in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and in the Bakersfield Californian, Bakersfield, California. It certainly was a game to be long remembered by all.

"Ask Any Girl," the senior play, was presented April 12 and 13 after weeks of rehearsal and practice. Two casts acted on their respective nights.

Meg came from a small town to New York City (after convincing her protesting relatives it would be good for her) to find the "right" man. Meg lived in a hotel with transplanted New Yorkers who came to the big city for the same reason Meg did. After much amusing chaos Meg lands a job, tries to land the boss's playboy brother by "motivation research" but finds herself in love with the boss himself. The boss finds his feelings are mutual. The prospective bride's relatives arrive in time to cause more confusion. Everything is at last organized for a happy ending.

The group thoroughly enjoyed developing the annual senior play under direction of Coral Dubry. Aside from participating in the production, committees were assigned to publicize, paint scenery, sell tickets, and provide props for the success of a play consisting exclusively of seniors.

Elissa Sheets and Mary Dubrouillet starred opposite Manuel Lemakis, Larry Drexler, and Dale Fennell. The others in the cast played supporting roles.

Those responsible for contributions to the paper are on the Chip staff. The staff gathers news of interest about M-RH, including sports, social events, club happenings, honor roll, latest news, features and editorials. Editors are chosen by Chip sponsor, Miss Joanne Kilsberg. Those who write up material are reporters. The editors and reporters are recognized in the mast head in every edition. In addition to publishing the newspaper, journalists learn the fundamentals of writing and presenting material.

The 1962 Maple Leaves would not be possible without the diligent efforts of those who gave much of their help and time in preparing the yearbook for publication. The staff members greatly appreciate the assistance of these helpers.

All phases of M-RH high school life has been recorded in a manner which, we hope, pleases you. Colleges represent the theme of the '62 Maple Leaves. Larger group pictures and more action shots of clubs and activities of the classes were attempted.

For the second consecutive year, the annual maintained the tradition of presenting a Maple Leaves dance. The dance was attended by members of the student body who elected a queen and king, four maids and four escorts.

Robert deJong is the Maple Leaves' sponsor. The staff and helpers are grateful for his time and concern in producing a yearbook brimful of memories for years to come.

Their coach, Pete Palumbo, singlehandedly led the team through four victorious games, in which the sterling gang tackle defense and desire to win were major attributions of victory. In a team with such spirit and ability, the future looks bright as this past year.

ROUNDBALLERS FIGHT

ROW ONE: Bruce, Drexler, Checkett. ROW TWO: Proemsey, Fitzgerald, Huff, J. Coates, Richardson, Mills, Coach Howdy

Sanders. ROW THREE: Black, Goodwin, Wood, Aitch, Mohme, Cooper, Lange.

High spirited and skilled playing was displayed by the M-RH Varsity basketball team during the '61-'62 season. The Leafs, under the direction of Coach Howdy Sanders, drove to tie with Kirkwood for the Suburban League Championship. The roundballers went on to participate in the state class quarter-finals. The Leafs posted and 8-1 record in league competition and a 25-5 record for the season, totaling an .833 percentage.

Bob Wood merits much of the credit for the success of the team. "Without him, we would never have tied for the league championship," stated Howdy. The 6'4" senior was voted a place on both the Post-Dispatch and Globe Democrat's all-district teams. Wood averaged 17 points per game, and with 487 points for the season, placed second to Matthew (Bowie) Aitch in team scoring.

Bowie tallied 507 for the season. A junior, Bowie also received recognition from the two papers by being placed on their second squads. Both Wood and Aitch were voted positions on the all-suburban league team.

Phillip Bruce, Glen Huff, and Bob Lange were also among those making notable contributions toward M-RH's successful season.

The Leaf's co-ownership of the Suburban League Championship marked the first time since the '55-'56 team that M-RH has captured the league title. The roundball season closed March 8 when the Leafs, who averaged 65 points a game throughout the season, was defeated 54-44 by Springfield Central eliminating them from the State Tourney.

The '61-'62 basketball season, which marked Fred Larason's final year as "B" team coach, was marred by a losing record of 9-10. It was the first losing season the "B" team has suffered during Mr. Larason's tenure as coach.

Although this year's squad failed to emerge victoriously from the season's competition, several of the players showed good potential for future varsity teams. Greg Vahle and John McClure scored heavily throughout the season. Others making notable contributions to the sophomore team were Jim Proemsey and Jim Johnson.

Completing the basketball picture at M-RH this year, the freshmen roundballers, under the direction of Coach Pete Palumbe, broke even, posting a 3-3 record. The freshmen Little Leafs were led in scoring by Bill DeHeer.

The 1962 baseball season at M-RH got off to a slow and soggy start as three of the team's first four games were called on account of rain or wet grounds. Those games washed out were the season's opener against Wellston on April 2, a contest with Affron on April 6, and a game which found M-RH leading St. Charles 3-1 in the fourth inning of play on April 10. All three of the cancelled contests were home games for M-RH.

On April 4 the team journeyed to Brentwood where they played out their first full game of the season, a 3-3 tie. On April 12 Coach Palumbo's team suffered in its first defeat of the season as Kirkwood posted a 4-1 victory over M-RH in the game held at Maplewood.

Among the skills which the boys displayed were long drives and aimed teeing offs and putts. Their main aims were to avoid slices, hooks, and sand traps as much as possible.

Outstanding players Carol Sherman, Kay McGregor, Sandy Rafferty, and Pat Zweifel fought hard with the rest of the team in competition with Ladue, Webster, and Normandy on the hockey field.

The hardwood sextet participated in five games with Kirkwood, Ladue, Webster, Hancock, and Brentwood. Three freshmen who showed outstanding ability in basketball skills were placed on the varsity team. They are Toni Palumbo, Vicki Smith, and Kay Conley.

RHYTHM IN BLUES KING AND QUEEN

Queen Elissa Sheets and King Manuel Lemakis.

THE SWINGING COURT

Dale Fennell, Barb Renz, Bob Wood, Sandy Rafferty, Manuel Lemakis, Elissa Sheets, Julie Evans, Phill Bruce, Sue Smith, and Bob Durban.

The traditional dance presented by the Maple Leaves Staff again was a social spotlight around the halls of M-RH. Co-chairmen Carol Lee Sherman and Donna Fisher organized the arrangements and necessary odds and ends. The Rythm 'n Blues Dance was the first social event of the school year.

The gym was decorated with patriotic blue and white crepe paper, which was displayed at the throne and on a portion of the ceiling. The other portion of the heavens consisted of dreamy light colored nets gathering in a puffy cloud in a center ring. The center of this was of multi-colored poofs around the draping strips of net.

The throne consisted of a blue and white back drop. On the white background were saxophones, drums, a trumpet, and a blue piano with white keys. On the platform sat two drums and cymbals and under the crepe paper piano sat a white piano bench. Around the walls were found such music symbols as sharps, flats, g cleffs, base cleffs, and various sizes of notes. On the fence, which was the entrance to the dance, were located large notes with couples names on them as souvenirs of the evening.

Suspense filled the room as it was called to the attention of the couples that the court was about to be announced by editor Jane Wilson and Earl Hearst. The first royal couple that was announced was Bob Wood and Julie Evans, Dale Fennell and Barb Renz, and Bob Durban and Sue Smith. The final couple to be announced were King Manuel Lemakis and Queen Elissa Sheets. The maids were presented nose gays matching their attire and the queen was given long stemmed red roses bounded together with a red satin bow. The royal court was chosen by the entire student body.

Enjoyment reigned supreme at the G.A.A. Backwards Dance, the Flappers Follies. The gym was decorated to resemble a speak-easy seen in the roaring twenties. The throne was decorated with a table supporting a pink champagne glass with grapes draping over its side. From this glass, rose pink bubbles giving atmosphere to the room. The ceiling was pasted with nets and crepe paper and along the walls were draped paintings of the cabinet members full size in colorful flappers costumes.

Entertainment was displayed in many ways. The cabinet members, who were all dressed in elegant colored dresses of the twenties adorned with fringes and long dangling beads, did an exhibition dance. It was a wild charleston to the swinging tune of the "Twelfth Street Rag". After this phase of enjoyment followed the announcement of the traditional male court by the president of the Girls Athletic Association, Julie Evans. The Jacks were: freshman, Mike Hoeferlin, escorted by Lynn Moreland, sophomore Ramsey Coates, escorted by Sandy Rafferty, junior Jeff Coates, escorted by Barb Renz, and senior Warren Hickenbotham, escorted by Sue Blankenmeister. The reigning king Manuel Lemakis was escorted by Julie Evans.

Mystic and romantic describe the beautiful 1962 Junior-Senior Prom, having the theme, "Arabian Nights."

The feature of the evening was the regal and majestic ceremony crowning the new queen. A genii and his lamp resided in the backdrop to the throne where retiring queen Snooky Scott reigned through the ritual which would honor Miss Elissa Sheets as the newly crowned queen. She will rule the genii until next year.

The court was completed by fourteen junior class ribbon bearers, six junior maids, and three senior class maids. The ribbon bearers and junior maids are voted on and elected by the senior class while the senior maids and queen are chosen by the junior class.

FANTASY

Jane Wilson and Dale Fennell.

As the old saying goes — the best comes last and this year's best was the senior prom. The court was elected by the senior class and consisted of eight senior maids and eight senior jacks. Reigning over the court were Queen Barb Renz and King Manuel Lemakis.

This year the coronation took place amid the wonders of the south sea islands, and the theme was Underwater Fantasy. Everyone seemed to enjoy the south sea atmosphere created with the realistic setting of an island with palm trees. Fish nets and boats added to the island scene, but a pirates treasure chest gave that last touch of romance.

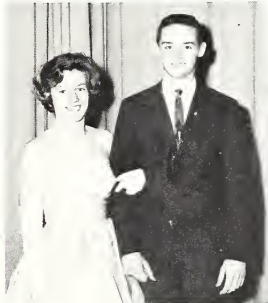

This perfect end to the social season at M.R.H. will remain a cherished memory in the hearts of 1962 graduates.
